Editor-in-charge
this time I'd like you to put a spirited effort into drawing!
I think you're over the moon right now, but last time, the survey results were awful, so

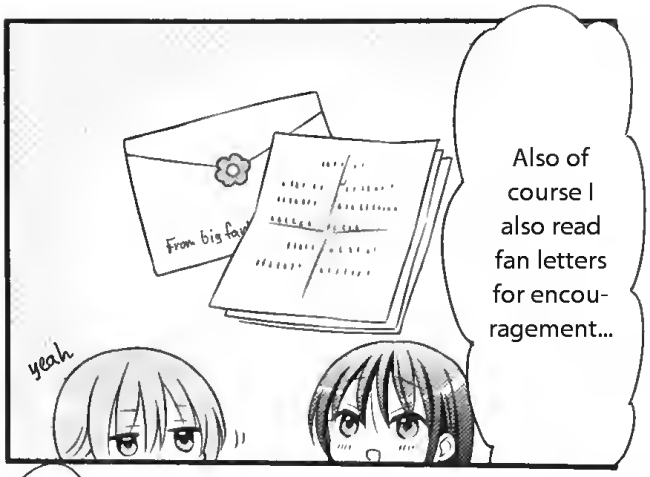
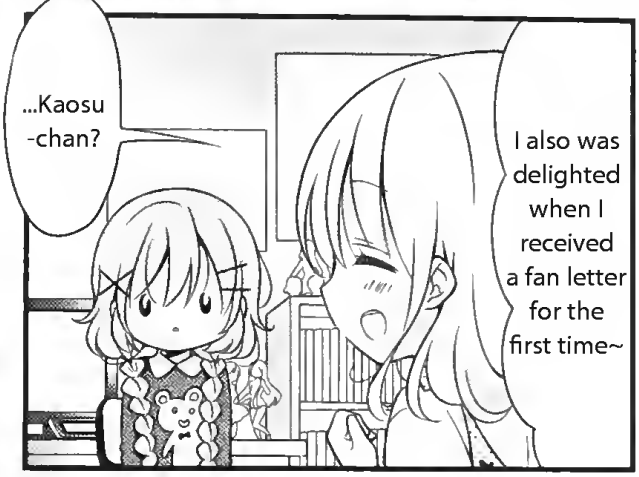
M...my

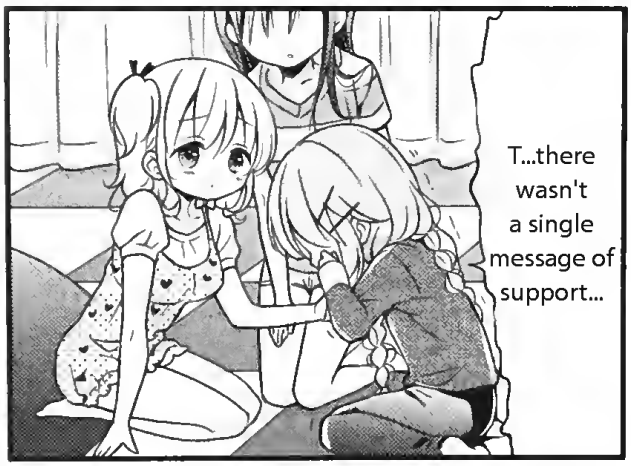


From big fan
yeah
Also of course I also read fan letters for encouragement...

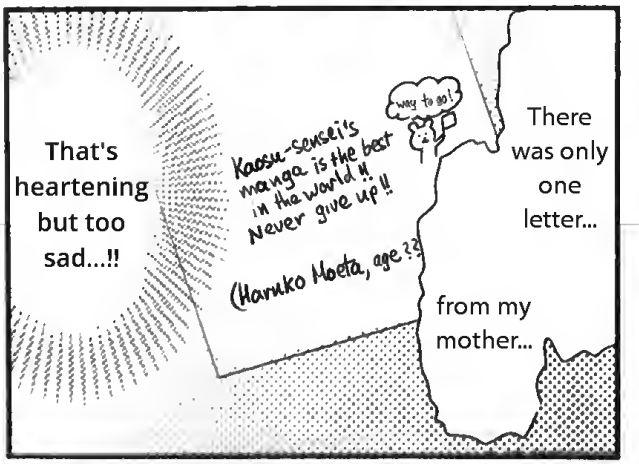
b... bottom...
debut work in the survey was ranked at the...



...Kaosu -chan?
I also was delighted when I received a fan letter for the first time~



T...there wasn't a single message of support...



That's heartening but too sad...!!
Kaosu-sensei's manga is the best in the world!! Never give up!!
(Haruko Hoeta, age ??
There was only one letter...
from my mother...

I... don't have a single fan...

I also, when I look back at my debut work, I shudder at how bad it is...
Me too, when I draw my wild love fantasies, it's super embarassing when people I know read it.

Afterword from p106

This has been the last chapter of volume 1 of Comic Girls.
Hope you enjoyed reading it!
Maybe I'll also translate volume 2 (which is already out) at some point.
But please support the author and buy their comics if you don't want them to get cancelled.

Did you know Comic Girls was on the cover of Manga Time Kirara MAX recently? Not many series have gotten this privilege... It was Hanzawa Kaori's first front cover as well, despite drawing manga for over 10 years.

By the way, to repeat the journey Kaosu made in chapter 10, board the train east at Suidobashi JR station. This station is located right next to Houbunsha headquarters (equivalent to "Bunhousha" in the manga). You will be boarding a yellow line train (Chuo-Sobu line); red line (Chuo Rapid line) also passes through this station but doesn't stop there. Exit at the second stop (Akihabara JR). You can then proceed to visit the "otaku district" to the west of the station.
